Horrible Blessing

Horrible Blessing

Disclaimer: This essay is not THE TRUTH but it is truthy.

We're at war. Seriously that's what occurring right now across the whole world. For most that reality isn't recognizable. It is a battle for minds, souls and even physical existence of all the beings on this planet. God wins. Will you?

This war began a bit over 200,000 years ago. A highly placed and spiritually brilliant administrator of about 600 evolutionary planets in our Local Universe fomented a revolution. It wasn't obvious to his peers and superiors why Lucifer denounced the existence of God. Among other things he proclaimed that was no God and the energy that made up the universe was self-existent and eternal. He was annoyed at the amount of time and effort spent on the spiritual uplift of mortals. The plan of ascension, which he criticized, is one of the distinguishing features available to the evolving creatures in this Universe Age.

The Lucifer Rebellion was a spiritual and philosophical battle in the 'heavenly' realms. He taught false liberty based on self-admiration and the right of individuals to control others for the sake of egotistic elevation. Numerous angels and other lesser spiritual persons were attracted to his movement simply because they couldn't believe that any being of such brilliance could be in error. Ultimately only about thirty-seven physical planets were deceived into participation. Our planet was one of the most adversely affected.

It was so long ago that any memories of those events are confused and more myth than history. A number of names of the participants are vaguely remembered but tend to be lumped together under the rubric, 'the devil'. Lucifer was the initiator of the rebellion against God. Satan was his First Lieutenant and the primary person who convinced Caligastia, the Planetary Prince of our earth to join the Rebellion. Daligastia was the associate-assistant of the Planetary Prince. Abaddon was the chief of the staff of Caligastia. Beelzebub was the leader of the disloyal midway creatures.

Planetary Prince? A person from the higher realms of spiritual province is assigned to be the administrator or governor on all the worlds in which mortals are born and begin their ascension careers. They are the overseers of the methodical development of the mortals on their worlds. Midwayers are another category of beings who are effectively the permanent residents of those worlds. You might think of us mortals as 'renters' because we are here and gone in mere eye-blinks. The Midwayers assist mortal social and spiritual development as well as planetary development. They are cousins of men, closer to men than angels, whose forms are electrical rather than chemical. Some can manifest themselves for brief periods to be seen and interact with us denser beings but generally live beyond the capacities of our human senses.

When Caligastia chose to join the Rebellion there were 100 corporeal staff members who lived on the planet as the physical representation of the higher spiritual realms. These were beings from a number of planets who had been given physical forms so they could live on our planet. However, they had the capacity to live indefinitely extended lives by partaking of the fruits of a shrub known as the Tree of Life. Sixty of the members of the corporeal staff chose to join the rebellion. They lost access to the Tree of Life and so, slowly but surely, their life spans decreased.

Those sixty chose to act as Gods to the evolving humans. Along the way they interbred with the locals. They performed genetic experiments to try limit normal spiritual abilities from developing in the evolutionary races. They presented themselves as Gods, demanded worship and generally kept the evolutionary mortals as slaves. As their lives shortened it was discovered that the blood of babies and very young children would, to some degree mitigate the aging process. That was the origin of child sacrifice, blood drinking and other sorts of cannibalism that persist to this day.

Their descendants made up 'gods' like Baal, Marduk and Moloch to ritualize those practices. Today the most depraved of the Luciferian/Satanists still use such perversions to provide themselves a sense of power. However, one of the effects of denying God is progressive insanity. God actually is the foundation of all existence. All persons are uniquely distributed reflections of Divinity. When someone progressively denies their own origin, they begin to be less real. Adamant denial leads to an inevitable consequence, annihilation.

Lying is considered a sacrament to those who practice Evil. Our history is a figment of lies. All recent wars were lies. Humanity has been treated as chattel or merely animals by those who claim to have inherited the mantle of Lucifer's power. Think about the phrase 'divine right of kings.' Most of the people whom you have been taught to idolize by popular media are actually in some degree of collusion with the Luciferian inertia.

This might seem extreme statement but almost everything you have been taught is a lie. Here are four examples of common lies.

1. Fluoride in the water. It was sold as a tooth decay preventative. In fact, the fluoride put in municipal water supplies is a neurotoxin by-product of phosphate fertilizer production and the aluminum industry. It would cost a lot of money to safely neutralize those waste products. However, sold as a product they can get rid of them and actually make money. The results of fluoride poisoning are inducing docility in populations, diminishing IQ levels of affected recipients by as much as 10 points per generation and hardening of the pineal gland to diminish the capacity for spiritual reception.
2. Oil is a 'fossil fuel'. In the 1890's the Rockefeller's started the lie that oil was a fossil fuel. The idea was initially presented at a symposium convened to define organic compounds. The idea was to make people think there was a limited supply that would cease once the earth was pumped dry. It was all about training people into a scarcity myth for money. In fact, oil is made by the earth continuously.

3. Covid. Everything about the Covid hoax is a lie. The story of Sars Cove 2, the variants and the PCR test is just propaganda by which the world's people are being distracted from the fact that the jabs are an AI nano weapon and/or gene therapy to modify the human genome. They are creating a new bio-synthetic species by inoculating the global population, experimenting on us and exterminating us. Think about this. Military grade lipid nano particles are neuro weapons and bioweapons. Look into venom rather than viruses. Covid and fiat money are two of the greatest Evils in the recent history of our planet.
4. CO2 (Carbon Dioxide) causes 'climate change'. This is one of the most stupid lies currently being pushed. Plants breath carbon dioxide and produce Oxygen, that gaseous basis of human life. Did you know that when I was a youth, we were taught that oxygen was 20% of the air around us. What is it now 16% or less? Think about that... if you can still think.

The Lucifer Rebellion is over. At the most exalted level of our Super Universe the adjudication of the Lucifer Rebellion was completed in our year of 1985. The rebels (Lucifer, Satan, Caligstia et al) who denied God were found guilty in the court of the Ancients of Days. Those august beings deal with both Mercy and Justice. The rebels were offered a merciful opportunity for rehabilitation but in a final act of defiance chose annihilation. They no longer exist.

However, on this earth there is still a great inertia of that Evil. It is being brought to an end. In the realm of the comparatively Divine, circuits of Love and Divine communication are being restored to our planet. We had been isolated during the rebellion to limit its spread. Part of the final resolution of the Lucifer Rebellion here on earth is an awakening to the truth that we have been ruled by those who embrace Evil. It is an extremely painful process. We were all so used to being subservient that confronting that reality stresses every one of us with a cognitive dissonance that is very difficult to bear.

The horrible part is waking up to see that those who would rule practice pedophilia, child sacrifice, torture, human trafficking. genetic modification and mind control of the masses. They seize power by taking over the very tip top of society through a combination of murder, bribery, propaganda and blackmail. Adrenochrome is used for vanity. Weather warfare is used to keep us off balance by subjecting us to a continuing series of 'natural disasters.' Do you know about DUMBS? Conventional food is poisoned. Medicine is as often poison as not. The electromagnetic spectrum around us is being weaponized. The bulk of humanity is scheduled for extermination with some remnants turned into AI robots. The truth of alien presences on this earth will be subject to a massive reveal. Look up Valiant Thor.

Do you know about the Khazarian Mafia? If not, you don't know anything about the comparatively recent history of the ancient vector of evil on our planet (last 1,200 years or so). If you would learn, here are three brilliantly researched histories. The total time of the three videos is about an hour and a half.

Sometimes it seems as though our world is all horrors. However, every time Love is manifest it puts the lie to Evil. So, practice Love every chance you can. Ask inside for guidance and you will receive it. There is a spark of God living within you waiting to be acknowledged. That is the most perfect guide you can access. Ask and then wait in stillness. In time you will achieve an increased skill at receiving the guidance that is specifically tailored for you.

So, what's the blessing? If you do wake up and bear witness to the horrors of Evil you will never be attracted to it in the entirety of your Ascension career. You will be able to provide service to God that is unique. By being alive at this time and investing your faith in God you will create a personal armor of righteousness that will last through Eternity. That is the Blessing. Be grateful. It is an incomparable opportunity!
